Boat Owners May Get Certificates Or Licenses At City Hall Saturday

Morning, June 27th—Regulations Set Out For Small Boats—Requirement To Secure Certificates
Or Licenses

Word had been received in Bay St. Louis that a member of the United Coast Guard would be at the City Hall on Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock A. M. for the purpose of issuing certificates of identification, or license for the operation of boats to people in this area. However, Hon. H. Grady Perkins and Mayor G. Y. Blaize have been informed that due to some unforeseen circumstances, it will be impossible for a Coast Guardsman to be here Friday, but that he would be here Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock A. M. at the Mayor's Office.

It will be necessary in order to secure a certificate, or license, that a person have with him at the time the application is made, his birth certificate, or baptismal certificate, but if neither can be secured, an affidavit of two responsible people as to the birth and citizenship of the applicant will suffice. Applicant must also have three pictures of passport size (1 1/2 inch x 1 1/2 inch) and the photograph must be made without hat or glasses.

For the information of those interested, we are giving the rules and regulations as issued for small boats on navigable waters.

1. All vessels, of whatever size, normally propelled by machinery, and all vessels of 16 feet in length over all, or over, whether propelled by machinery or not, operating on the navigable waters of the Eighth Naval District, must have a license to operate. The length of time for which licenses are valid is as follows: Pleasure craft confined to local waters not outside of coast line—each trip; tugs under five hundred tons; operating in intracoastal canal—3 months; operating outside—each trip; barges inside—until revoked.

2. All persons, 14 years of age or over, operating, working on, or sailing on any vessel, regardless of size, operating on waters defined above, must have an identification card.

3. Transient guests and passengers may be exempted, provided boat and master or operator is properly licensed and/or identified; and such operator or master realizes and accepts the responsibility for such guests or passengers. Transient guests are defined as those persons living outside the Coastal Area and not using navigable waters more than twice a year.

4. Operators of fishing camps who rent boats under 16 feet in length to transient fishermen, may obtain a blanket license covering a specified number of such boats. All boats under such licenses must have the serial number of the license plainly marked on the boat. At least one of the persons renting such a boat must be provided with an identification card and accept responsibility for transient guests and passengers.

5. No boat may anchor, drift, troll, or operate within 300 yards of any railroad or arterial highway bridge, except for legitimate passage through prescribed channel.

6. All vessels passing through any of the above bridges may expect to be boarded and examined for papers.

7. The operation of radio transmitters on vessels in the inland waters of this district is governed by the Eighth Naval District Radio Regulations dated 16 February, 1942.

8. Fishing in South and Southwest Pass to Mississippi River is not allowed.

9. South Pass, Mississippi River, is restricted to military use only.

10. Fishing vessels proceeding beyond the local waters of the United States must report their departure and arrival to the Captain of the Port or his representative. Should none be conveniently located, this report may be made to the nearest Naval or Coast Guard Unit. Pleasure boats or yachts are not permitted beyond local waters outside the coast line.

11. Nothing in the above regulations is intended to prohibit owners of property within the prescribed limits, from fishing from, or securing their boats to such private property.

12. Applications for license, radio licenses, and identification cards may be made to the Captain of the Port (U. S. C. G.), Room 9 Salomon Bldg., Gulfport, Miss.

CHAIRMAN RUBBER SALVAGE

Committee Appointed—Appeal Made For Scrap Rubber To Be Turned In

An appeal to the people of Mississippi to accept and fulfill a quota of at least five pounds of scrap rubber per person to be turned into a gasoline service station before June 30th, in the scrap rubber drive, was made by Mr. Herbert Nunnerly, attorney and secretary of the Mississippi Petroleum Industries Committee.

"To win the war, America must overcome its rubber shortage," Mr. Nunnerly said. "Old rubber that lies around in basements, attics, garages, and barns only rots and disintegrates and does nobody any good. But if it is turned into a service station before June 30, it will be reprocessed and will help materially to ease the stringent rubber shortage."

"Not only is this one way for every man, woman and child to help win the war, but it will do much to prevent every individual from being deprived of the many daily necessities of life which are made of rubber."

"The scrap rubber campaign ends June 30th. Until that time filling stations will pay one cent a pound for rubber, baby carriage tires, bicycle tires, automobile tires, automobile tubes, rubber soles or heels, rubber gloves, bathing caps, bathing suits and aprons, rubber sheets, pads, mats, and baby pants, rubber boots and overshoes, garden hose, and other articles made of rubber. Not only will filling stations pay a cent a pound for rubber, but everyone who contributes to the drive will be repaid a thousand times in satisfaction for helping to salvage rubber for victory."

In Hancock County, Mr. M. A. Gilmore has been named Chairman of the County Rubber Salvage Committee by T. H. Simpson, Mississippi Chairman of the Petroleum Rubber Salvage Committee.

AL VOIGHT PURCHASES RUBBER

At His Garage and Filling Station—Results Outstanding—People Responding

Running true to form, our ever alert and progressive fellow townsman, Al Voight, did not wait for the go sign but stepped out and started the purchase of rubber through his filling station as soon as the direction was sent out that this was the method in which it was to be handled. The results can readily be seen by looking at the pile of rubber accumulated in front of his place of business.

Mr. Voight feels that this is only a start of what will be there on June 30th. We want to take our hats off to Al. We have worked on many committees with him and, in our opinion, he is one man in our community who does his job and does it well whenever an assignment is given him. We want to congratulate him for the good work that he is doing in the rubber campaign.

Won't you get out and help him by bringing your old rubber tires and any type of rubber that you may have around your home and dropping it on the pile? You will be paid one cent per pound for this old rubber, or you may donate it. In the event you should donate it, any profit derived from the sale of this rubber by the Petroleum Industries will be divided equally between the American Red Cross, the U. S. O. and the Army Relief and the Navy Relief.

Do your part as well as Mr. Voight is doing his and in the event we all do this, you can rest assured that Hancock County will go over the top in the Rubber Salvage Campaign.

ROLAND B WALL CANDIDATE

For Senate, Visits Bay St. Louis—Plans Active and Vigorous Campaign

Hon. Roland B. Wall, former state W. P. A. Administrator and Brookhaven business man, who is a candidate for the United States Senate, was a visitor to Bay St. Louis on last Friday. Mr. Wall was renewing acquaintances and visiting with some of his friends in town.

Mr. Wall is making a very active campaign and calls himself the "Soldier for Senator Candidate." He states that he is a veteran of the First World War and that he knows the real meaning of war, and that he has no patience with those who hesitate, delay and debate while the sons of America are giving their lives for the salvation of our country, and while they fight for us on foreign soil, that we must fight for them at home.

He has based his campaign on a sixteen-point program. It includes planks for an all-out war effort, veterans legislation, federal school aid, labor anti-racketeering laws, better farm laws, freight rate adjustments, retention of poll tax requirements and anti-congressional pensions.

Later in the campaign Mr. Wall hopes to have a formal speaking engagement in this county. This is his first venture in State politics; however, after speaking with him, one would feel that he was an old timer in the game. He plans to carry on a very active and vigorous campaign and is not boastful of his chances of election. This, in our opinion, is rather sound political theory.

MUST POST CEILING PRICES

And Must Be Filed With Local Board Prior to July 1st

State Director William Holcomb of the Office of Price Administration at Jackson has issued a statement with three requirements of the price regulation board, which should be given immediate attention by retailers, and the State Ration Board has advised the Local Ration Board as follows:

"Please use all available channels of public information, including newspapers, radio and trade organizations to inform all retailers in your area that price lists of cost of living commodities as defined in bulletin No. 2, must be filed with the War Price and Rationing Board by July 1st."

The regulations as issued by Director Holcomb are as follows:

1. The retailer must mark his ceiling prices on all cost-of-living commodities, so that the prices can be plainly seen by the customer at the point of purchase. These prices must be designed by the words, "Our Ceiling $....." or "Ceiling Price $....." and may be marked on the article itself, or on the rack, bin, or shelf where the article is offered for sale.

2. The retailer must file a list of all cost-of-living commodities which he carries with his local war price and rationing board by July 1, 1942. His ceiling prices for these commodities must be on the list. The list should be sent to the local board and not to the state office.

3. The retailer must compile by July 1, 1942, a list of ALL commodities which he handles, including cost-of-living and other items. This list must also carry his ceiling prices for all commodities and articles offered for sale, and should include all customary discounts, allowances, and other price differentials. It should be kept at the retailer's place of business for inspection by any interested person.

All merchants who desire copies of bulletin No. 2, entitled "What Every Retailer Should Know About Price Regulation," can secure the same from the office of the State Director, W. E. Holcomb, of the

On Saturday and Sunday, July 11th and 12th, the annual Church Fair of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf will be held. Rev. Father Wm. Clark, Assistant Pastor, has been named chairman of the fair for this year.

This is an annual event and the proceeds derived from this benefit are used in paying off the church debt. Heretofore the people of Bay St. Louis have been very generous in their contributions and this has been a great aid to the Parish. Each year donations have been given and it has not been necessary for a great outlay of money to be made in advance for the purchase of necessary articles to be used at the fair. It is the hope of Father Clark that this will be true this year.

In the event you wish to make a donation, may we suggest that you contact Father Clark and he will call personally, or have someone call to get the same.

CAMP STANISLAUS

Camp Stanislaus opened with a good enrollment on June 14. There are only three vacant beds now. The weather was perfect for the first week, but the campers found the two rainy days somewhat of a relief this week.

The addition of a dozen pilgrims to the Camp equipment has been a boon to all the groups, large and small. More sport seems to come from these little boats than from any of the other activities.

We are delighted with the grand spirit shown by every boy in camp. Camp Stanislaus of 1942 promises to be the greatest camp in Stanislaus history.

Group 1. We have two boys of last year's Group 1 still in the same group. They are Pat Browne and Philip Parrino.

A two hour hike was enjoyed last Wednesday afternoon. The following boys led the group: John Gehl, Davis Gueymard, Fred Beverley and Blaize D'Antoni.

Group 2. The first activity of Group 2 was a softball game Monday morning. The Blues and Reds put on a very close contest.

Tuesday night was the big stunt night.

Archery has been practiced two or three times.

Group 3, which includes boys of the eleven-twelve age group, and is under the direction of Brothers Linus, James and Berchmans, numbers thirty boys. The group leaders in lining up and marching is Bobby Brown of New Orleans.

This group has been enjoying archery, diving and swimming, softball, crabbing and table-tennis.

Group 4 opened a new session of Camp Stanislaus with 33 boys. An eager and excited group were greeted by their group masters, Brothers Remigius and Hugh. The first activity was a swim in the clear waters of the Gulf.

Fourteen boys returned to Camp Stanislaus from last session. Activities include baseball, archery, pigroque races, softball and other games.

Group 5. Sailing is rapidly getting to be an art with the members of group 5. Other activities are tennis, fishing and track.

Group 5 has as group members the only twins at Camp Stanislaus. They are Gus and Nick Fiel from Dayton, Ohio.

All petitions for request of adjustment of hardship cases which merchants may wish to file should be sent to the State Office. WHAT IS THE TROUBLE?

THE Editor of the Oxford Eagle published at Oxford, Mississippi in its issue of Thursday, June 18th, charged the people of Lafayette County with failing to do their part and to realize their responsibilities in this War: "IS LAFAYETTE COUNTY GOING TO GET INTO THIS WAR?"

This question, six months after being attacked by powerful aggressor nations, on the surface seems a little foolish, but let's get below the surface.

Our young men through voluntary enlistment and through selective service are represented in every division of our fighting forces, on land, on sea, below sea, above land and sea, in almost every part of the world. They are doing a whale of a good job, all that could be asked of any man. Lafayette's service men are meeting the test, answering every challenge. They are the champions of liberty and freedom, they are the hope of our survival and salvation. They will not fail.

"Then why worry?" some will ask. "Let's give them three cheers and call it a day." And that's the trouble, that's what we are doing. We are giving the nation our fighting men and we are giving our fighting men a cheer now and then but little else.

Lafayette County should be in this war at home as well as abroad. Our manhood, no matter how well trained and how capable it is, cannot win a victory without our help. We owe it to them and to ourselves and to our children and to God to put the home front on the same efficient basis, in the same all-out determination to win regardless of individual cost and sacrifice. We must grid for war, not continue to consider business and pleasure as usual.

What's our share in this war? It is a great deal and is payable in a good many ways. Let's consider here the most important one, the one that hits us all in our most touchy and weakest spot, the pocketbook. Money is the most valuable contribution by the folks at home. It is our one effective method of helping win the victory. It is the one way in which we can all take part regardless of age, physical condition, learning, skill and ability. Money talks in a modern war and we right here in Lafayette county might as well be making it shout rather than scarcely whispering.

Let's examine the records and see what Lafayette's money and the men and women who possess it are doing.

All of us know that we fell down on our Red Cross quota, the first money we were asked to contribute to war efforts. Our quota was set at $3,000, about 15 cents per person a trifling sum that should have been raised in a few days. We huffed and puffed for weeks and weeks and finally collected a little over a thousand dollars. Then a lucky break from the sale of a purebred heifer brought in $715 and should have encouraged us to quickly make up the balance. But we didn't we laid down on the job to our everlasting disgrace. Laid down in spite of the fact that the Red Cross immediately after the tornado that struck the southeastern part of the county poured out distress funds to our citizens that was far in excess of our war quota if we had raised it.

We did scrape up enough money to meet a quota of $300 for China Relief, nearly $450 for USO. Both of these were small sums. Our quota for the USO for some reason was set far below counties of similar population and wealth, perhaps we were being valued by our Red Cross efforts. We could easily have doubled or tripled our contributions to USO but we thought we were doing a lot by almost raising 21-4 cents per capita.

Another black mark is our record to date on Navy relief. Asked to raise $300, mind you less than a cent and a half per person, we have fallen down on the job. We are still behind on this insignificant sum although several weeks have elapsed since contributions were invited.

Purchase of war stamps and bonds by Lafayette countians has been on a good scale. But we must remember such is not a contribution but an investment and one of the best anyone can make. We doubt if anyone as yet has done any sacrificing to purchase these securities.

The test is coming this week and next when everyone will be asked to agree to invest one-tenth of their income in bonds and stamps. The representation at the "minute men" meeting

SENATOR WHEELER'S PEACE INQUIRY

WE must give to Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana credit for having a whole lot of gall when he made the statement, "What the people would be interested to know, is what steps, if any, have been taken to bring about peace."

Senator Wheeler should be able to answer this question himself. If he and the other isolationists would have stepped forward and would have worked to arm this country properly, that would have been the answer to his question.

If this country had been armed sufficiently, and if men of the type of Senator Wheeler had not taken the stand they did, we doubt if we would be at war today. It is our belief that if the armed forces of this country had been strong, that we could have told the countries that we are fighting today, to go straight to hell and stay on their side of the fence, and that if that would not do, we would give them something to remember us by. As it is, we are at the present time having to stall our enemies off until such time as we can be prepared to meet them, and to men like Senator Wheeler we can give credit for placing us in this position.

So, Mr. Senator we believe you should be the last one to ask any question about Peace, for as you know if one was made, it would be on the terms of Hitler and his cohorts—Would this suit you?

THE RED CROSS WORKER

WE are, indeed, very happy to be able to pay our compliments to the women of Hancock County who are so zealous and untiring in their work for the American Red Cross. It is commendable to note the number of women who are giving their time and efforts in sewing and knitting in the local Red Cross work room and the many others who are not able to be at the sewing room, are doing their chores and their part at home.

We do not believe that the patriotism of these good women can be surpassed. They are always smiling and pleasant when on the job and we know that they are deriving a real thrill out of being able to do something to aid in making comfortable the boy who is giving his all for us folks back home.

Monday night was pitifully small considering the importance of the work. We are still inclined to let George do it, still holding to the notion that the war will be won regardless of our particular contribution so why bother about doing our bit.

We could not get enough interest to put on a creditable observance of Flag Day last Sunday. In the midst of war with our flag being carried by our young men to every part of the world, the freedom might not perish we did not think enough of our national emblem to pause long enough to give it a brief organized program of reverence.

In view of the fact that we have only started on a long, hard, costly war, that we shall be called upon time and again for larger and larger contributions and that it will be increasingly necessary that we promptly and adequately meet each and every one of these calls, it is high time to consider whether Lafayette county is really going to get into this war.

Yes it is time to value and reevaluate what this fight for freedom and continuance of the American way of life is worth to us who call Lafayette our home and expect to remain at home while our young men sacrifice and suffer, endure hardships and wounds and agony and give up their lives for us. It is time to decide and assume a man-size responsibility in this war. It is time to decide each in our own individual heart whether we are going to be a working, giving, sacrificing patriot, or a lazy, indifferent slacker.

Time and war wait for no man. We cannot expect to go on at the rate we have the past six months and then suddenly catch up with the rest of the country. The fact is collectively we have fallen down badly in many of our duties and responsibilities to date. Possibly part of it has been thoughtlessness and carelessness. That's bad enough indictment and most certainly no longer halfway excusable. If we are not yet awake to our shortcomings and a record that cries out in shame then it is time for a blow squarely between the eyes.

America is at war, but are we? That's the question we must answer. No longer can we evade the issue.

It is hard for us to believe that a county the size of Lafayette county, the home of the University of Mississippi, would fall down on the job of raising the necessary funds in our war effort.

Let it be said for Hancock County that its citizens have been very diligent and active in all of the war work. We have made every quota that has been asked of us, with the exception of the Navy Relief, and this has been held off to allow the drive for the China Relief and the U. S. O. to be completed and to give to the people just a little breather in between drives.

Hancock County has a population of some nine or ten thousand people less than Lafayette County, and we have no industries and are really not a farming section, and our quota in some of the drives has been larger than Lafayette County and was within $500.00 of their quota for the Red Cross drive. We are certain that our people are not more patriotic than the people of Lafayette County, but it is our belief that the trouble with Lafayette County is that they are probably lacking in leadership. Check this over, Mr. Editor, and there is where your trouble might lie.

Hancock County Men in "The Service"

The Sea Coast Echo wishes to advise the parents or relatives of any of these men that it will gladly mail a copy of the paper to the boys if their address is given to the office. The newspaper will bring direct to the men away from home news of what the folks back home are doing and we hope this service will be one which they may enjoy.

The following list of names was supplied The Echo and should any service man's name be omitted it would be appreciated if it would be sent in.

Agent Notes

A THREE or four days supply of canned goods selected and stored in case of an emergency is good insurance. Of course you do not want to hoard. But this would be good planning. If there is an emergency your family would not need to depend on rushed workers but would be prepared and thus a help.

A small supply of oil, charcoal, a furnace, oilstove or some other means of cooking should also be part of

YOUNG COLORED MEN AGES 17 TO 29 TO BE ACCEPTED

For Enlistment by U. S. Marine Corps

Young colored men between the ages of 17-29 are now being accepted for enlistment by the U. S. Marine Corps, Major Edwin O. Schultz, officer in charge of Mississippi recruiting, announces.

Major Schultz said the negroes would be enlisted in the Marine Reserve and given special training for Marine Duty. Applicants must have at least a grammar school education, and they must pass the same physical requirements as regular Marines. Interested negroes should report to State Marine Corps Recruiting Station, 236 West Capitol street, Jackson, for information and to make application.

Negro applicants are needed immediately, the officer stated.

This stored supply. Hydrangea blossoms have been exceptionally fine this year. In some instances, however, the color of the bloom has not been clear or pure blue or pink. In such instances, a change of soil reaction by adding lime will make the flowers pink or a change made by adding sulphur or aluminum sulphate will make the flowers clear blue. In fact, a clear pink can be changed to a clear blue—or the reverse—by adding enough acidifying or alkalinizing agent to change the soil reaction. Now is the time to treat your soil for effective results next year. Work 8 ounces of flowers-of-sulphur into the soil around one large plant or dissolve 3 ounces of aluminum sulphate in each gallon of water used and soak ground thoroughly to make the flowers of hydrangea blue. Use a pound of lime in gallons of water and soak ground thoroughly.

Pansy seed sown in July or August of 1942 will produce healthy, vigorous blooming plants for the winter and spring of 1943. If you wish to grow your own plants, the seed should be ordered as soon as possible. Pansy seed are small and the quality strains are somewhat expensive. It pays to buy only the best in pansy seed. Varieties of the Swiss Giants are recommended for use in Mississippi where the largest flowers are desired. A trade package of seed should be sufficient, although if a quantity of plants is desired, it would be less expensive to order one-eight ounce of seed.

HANCOCK COUNTY CIVILIAN DEFENSE

THERE will be a meeting of the Advisory Board of Civilian Defense on Monday, June 29, at 1:30 p. m. in the Civilian Defense Office all members of the Board are urged to attend.

Salvage IMPORTANT—Until the present quantity of paper in the Harrison Building is sorted, baled and sold no more paper will be picked up. This will be attended to as soon as possible. In the meantime please keep your paper until we advise you that collections are being resumed.

To date approximately 17,000 pounds of scrap rubber has been collected in Bay St. Louis. The quota for the county is approximately 36,000 pounds. We have done fine so far and we want to thank all the filling stations that are cooperating in this vital and urgent Defense Program.

We would like at this time to thank the city and county officials for their valuable and generous assistance in all matters relating to the Salvage Program.

Those in charge of the different departments of Civilian Protection for Bay St. Louis held a most interesting meeting at the Control Center on Friday afternoon of last week. The head of each department reported for his group and seemed to have the situation well in hand.

THE County AGENTS COLUMN

Corn Prospects For County Good

Prospects for a good corn crop looks good over the county.

Mr. Oswill Moran of Rt. 3, Picayune states that he expects to make a record harvest this year. Mr. Moran has approximately 18 acres in corn that looks mighty good, and if he has favorable weather just for a few more weeks he should harvest enough corn to at least furnish a big majority of grain for his dairy herd this winter.

Mr. Moran states that he is going to put forth every effort to increase his feed production program sufficient to take care of his herd the year around, and in that way almost double his profits from milk. Feed more grain; a good cow when fed 1 lb. of grain for each 2 1/2 lbs. of milk will produce 18-20 percent more milk than if fed only one pound of grain for each 6 pounds of milk.

Farmers and home makers have been invited to listen to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard in a series of Farm and Home Hour talks on wartime farm problems being brought by the Blue Network each Friday at 12:30 p. m. E. W. T. 11:30 our time.

the war as it concerns farm people and with the war's efforts on their everyday affairs.

Secretary Wickard will welcome letters from listeners giving their views and raising questions on which he might base future Friday broadcasts. Local farmers with suggestions or questions are asked to address their letters to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. The Friday series of broadcasts was planned by Secretary Wickard literally to "talk things over" with farm people. In starting the series he said:

"More than ever before, farm people need to know the full story of what's going on. I'm sure that every one of us will do everything he can to help win the war if he knows what he can do, and why."

"We can't all sit down together, or lean against the same fence. But I can report to you on how the situation looks from Washington, and you can write in and tell me what you think of the things I'm saying, and what problems you are facing. Fortunately we have something this time we didn't have in the last war—the radio. It can help a lot in exchanging ideas and getting information out fast."

A Week Of The War

PRICE Administrator Henderson told the press if price ceilings hold during the next 20 months the entire war effort will cost 62 billion less than it would cost if prices rose as they did during the last war. He said savings on steel, rubber, and other materials are necessary to support price ceilings to prevent inflation and to prevent shortages of goods and services. Henderson said that the government is now spending $100 million a month on price control. He said that the government is now spending $100 million a month on price control. He said that the government is now spending $100 million a month on price control.

Approximately 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 persons eventually may be helping with price control and rationing, although few of them will be concerned directly with enforcement, he said. He stated he might take over some of the WPA staff in setting up the OPA organizations in State and District offices, because its facilities apparently were available as more and more people were going into employment from relief rolls.

The Labor Department said living costs in large cities dropped 0.1 percent between May 15 and June 2, the first drop in such costs since November 1940. Clothing, house-furnishing and rent costs all declined, but food costs continued to advance. The Department's index of nearly 900 wholesale prices dropped 0.3 percent during the week ended June 13, but was still 13.5 percent above a year ago.

War Manpower and Labor

The War Manpower Commission said the goal for men in the armed forces is 6,000,000 to 7,000,000 men by the end of 1943; 20,000,000 workers will be needed in war production and transportation by 1944; 12,000,000 will be required to harvest the 1943 crop. The President's committee on fair employment practice said in 1944 high school enrollment might be reduced by 40 to 50 percent, college enrollment by 70 to 80 percent, and half the nation's schools may be closed due to the increasing need for war workers.

The President signed legislation appropriating an additional $9½ million to finance the cost of training war workers in vocational courses of less than college grade. Selective service announced registrants in the non-military age group 45 to 46 will receive occupational questionnaires shortly which will be used to locate individuals with professional and scientific qualifications and with essential skills. The WPB said Pacific Coast lumbermen will be considered for temporary draft deferment. Agriculture Secretary Wickard said the farm labor supply problem might be solved if either the Government paid transportation expenses as part of the war program, or farmers pooled expenses to bring in the migrant labor they need. Railroads have already agreed to reduce fares for migrant workers.

Truck Transportation

The ODT established a U. S. Truck Conservation Corps to mobilize the nation's 5 million truck fleet in the world for more effective war service. The Office distributed to truck drivers, trucking firms, parts dealers and garages throughout the country information designed to assure the continued and uninterrupted flow of the materials of war and the necessities of civilian life. All are being asked to pledge they will cooperate to "keep 'em rolling" during the emergency.

ORTIE THEATER PRESENTS 'BROADWAY' SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Screen scoop of the year was scored by Universal in making "Broadway," the thrilling drama of New York after dark which opens Sunday and Monday at Ortie Theater, with George Raft and Pat O'Brien as its co-stars.

"Broadway" is the first, and possibly the last film feature of current war-time to provide a visual picture of New York as it appears with its "face lifted" to conform to war strategy regulations.

To Producer Bruce Manning, ex-newspaperman, author and playwright, goes credit for anticipating a "blackout" of New York's new silhouette "for the duration." "Broadway" was in production when Pearl Harbor was bombed. Immediately invoking an emergency switch of schedules Manning sent a flying crew to New York and literally "planted" his shots before the Government clamped down an air-tight lid on filming over the metropolis.

Thus, in "Broadway," for the first time on the screen, "Remember Pearl Harbor," blends with "Buy Defense Bonds" and other war-time signs which cast their glare over Times Square. Likewise traffic moving under new regulations since Pearl Harbor is identifiable on the screen, while shots from a plane winging over New York to land at its airport were also made after the Jap bombing.

Further evidence of the timeliness of the "Broadway" footage are shots on the street level in which men in today's service uniforms are discernible in large numbers.

These and other items attest to the honesty of "Broadway" in picturing the new war-time New York.

To those who remember "Broadway" as the stage hit, it is pertinent to add that in the new version, both the modern New York and that of the prohibition era are blended.

Prominent in the supporting cast are Janet Blair, Brod Crawford, Anne Gwynne, Marjorie Rambeau and others. William A. Seiter directed.

Rubber and Oil

from an authorized strength of 48 to 72.

The House passed and sent to the Senate legislation authorizing $500,000 to complete a large canal from St. John's river, Fla., to Port of St. John's, Fla., for an oil pipeline from Port of St. John's, Fla., to Jacksonville, Fla., for enlargement of the existing oil pipeline from the Tinsley oil field, Fla., to Port of St. John's, Fla., and Savannah, Ga.

The WPB announced American chemists have perfected a petroleum cracking process for making aviation gasoline and turpentine, a vital ingredient of synthetic rubber, in the same operation. The U. S. signed an agreement with the Republic of Costa Rica, under which its Government will purchase all of Costa Rica's rubber production for the next five years, and will aid in development of potential rubber resources there. The Post Office Department directed rural carriers to cooperate in "every reasonable way" in the scrap rubber collection drive and to help transport the scrap to collection depots from homes and farms on their routes.

The War Front

The White House announced British Prime Minister Churchill and President are conferring in the U. S. on "the war, conduct of the war, and the winning of the war."

The Western Defense Command announced a submarine presumed to be Japanese on June 21 fired six to nine shells into a sandy waste on the Oregon coast line near Astoria, in the second attack on the North American Pacific shore in 24 hours. Earlier, shells were fired at Estevan Point, Vancouver, Island. The Navy said two ships previously announced sunk by submarine fire off the Virginia coast were sunk by enemy mines, the first authenticated instances of mines in American waters in this war.

The Navy said U. S. air forces engaged in "restricted air operations against Kiska," Aleutian Islands, where enemy "tents and minor temporary structures were observed to have been set up on land." A small force of Japanese ships in the harbor was bombed by Army Aircraft, with hits scored on one cruiser and one transport sunk. Earlier, U. S. bombers sank an enemy cruiser, damaged an air-craft carrier, three enemy cruisers, one destroyer, a gunboat and a transport, and shot down four enemy planes. On the Australian North-eastern front, Allied Forces lost 11 planes compared with 26 Japanese shot down and several destroyed on the ground. U. S. Bombers based in North Africa scored several direct hits on two Italian battleships, and shot down one German plane. All U. S. planes returned safely to their base. During the week 16 allied merchant vessels were sunk, including eight of U. S. registry.

"JUNGLE BOOK AT A. & G. THEATER, SUNDAY-MONDAY

Based on the well-known jungle story of Rudyard Kipling, with screenplay and dialogue by author-dramatist Laurence Stallings, and painted in magnificent, breath-taking Technicolor, "Jungle Book" emerges as a fascinating fantasy about a boy who is torn between the world of man and the world of the jungle.

As a professional raconteur, Joseph Calleia relates the story of Sabu, who wandering off into the jungle when a toddling baby, is brought up by a wolf family. He comes back to his native village when grown to adolescence, educated only in the language and manners of the jungle, but gradually comes to know the ways of man. Sabu and Calleia's young daughter visit the jungle and discover the ruins of a once great city, containing stores of untold wealth. Bringing back with her a gold coin, the girl tells Calleia the whole story, which fills him with an insatiable lust for the treasure. Sabu, who is to be burned as a demon because he will not reveal the location of all this wealth, escapes, but leaves a trail to the once-great city. Calleia and his cohorts reach the gold, but they die, and Calleia barely escapes with his life. Sabu, seeing all that has happened, decides to return to his jungle life.

For those who want action, there are many scenes to satisfy this demand, as, for instance, Sabu's fight to the finish with "Shere Khan," the tiger, the search for the secret treasure by Calleia and his comrades and what happens as a result of their greed and the great jungle fire at the close.

Alexander Korda has mounted the production with a lavish and luxurious hand and Zoltan Korda has directed it so that interest is sustained throughout. It is a fairytale for both young and old.

DeLISLE RELIGIOUS VACATION SCHOOL

For two weeks the Ven. Sisters Bernadette and Gertrude were the teachers of the religious vacation school at DeLisle from June 7th to June 27th. Despite the inclement weather, mosquitoes and lack of transportation the attendance was just as good as it could be expected. They were surprised to find that the children were so obedient that it was a real pleasure to teach them.

Despite their assiduous classes the Venerable Sisters found time even to visit the sick and some among them were in their 90 and 92 years of age.

They did not have to beg the children to sing and last Sunday especially, the children having been among them. Mr. Ray Machetich, Miss Marion Netto and Mr. Murray Keel rendered so beautifully the famous Lourdes Song that some strangers were so surprised that they exclaimed after Mass was over, "These children executing 'A Capella' these beautiful songs could even surpass some quite well trained choruses." It was marvelous.

Father Sorin himself attended to the transportation of the Sisters every day.

Next week with the kindness of Mr. W. G. Simpson, the popular Mayor of Pass Christian, the Ven. Sisters will be brought for two weeks by the good patrolman, Mr. Lester Garriga. Such favors will be highly appreciated by Rev. Father Sorin and also by Our Lady of Lourdes congregation at Cuevas. May God bless these benefactors.

The U. S. Savings Bond pledge Campaign is a privilege and an opportunity for every income earner to stand shoulder to shoulder with our fighting men, by backing them with guns and tanks, ships and planes.

RAILROADS ...and War

To the Public:

From the scant business of a great depression the railroads are now handling the largest volume of freight and passenger business since the boom times of 1929. The demands of war required immediate carriage of men and supplies to the front lines. That the railroads could so quickly and ably meet the crisis shows meritorious performance. Many attest to that conclusion. Read these typical expressions:

Congressman Clarence F. Lea, Chairman, Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce:

"Today we have a railroad management schooled in our transportation difficulties in the World War and trained in efficiency under the pressure of unfavorable economic conditions and keen competition of the last two decades.

"In all the world no job is being better done today than by the American Railroads."

(From speech in House of Representatives, September 25, 1941)

Director of Office of Defense Transportation, Joseph B. Eastman:

"The carriers have also been on the alert, and last year made a record in increased efficiency of operation which is both remarkable and highly commendable."

(From address at Atlanta, Ga., February 27, 1942)

"Notwithstanding the meager additions to equipment which have been made since 1939 in the face of a tremendous increase in traffic, the railroads have met all needs, with a few minor and temporary exceptions, adequately and efficiently. Every one must concede that they have done an outstanding piece of work."

(From address at Philadelphia, Penn., April 9, 1942)

Senator Clyde M. Reed:

"The railroads have been through some lean years. With very few exceptions their credit was impaired during these lean years. About one-third of the mileage of the American railroads was in bankruptcy. Substantial mileage is still in bankruptcy."

"Yet the railroads of the United States are doing the most phenomenal job in their history..."

"Outside the production of essentials, no factor in our economic structure is so important as transportation. The railroads of the country have an ample supply of ability in their executives, and of efficient and loyal service from the million men who operate the trains and man the offices and yards. To all of those men who have contributed to this almost miraculous result, I pay my tribute..."

(From speech in the United States Senate, May 11, 1942)

The American Magazine:

"The American Magazine believes that railroad efficiency is one of America's modern marvels. No industry has responded more completely to the call for extra work and greater responsibility. The railroads have taken on the war load instantly and effectively, and they have done it without impairing their regular services. Passenger travel was never handled better, and the standards of comfort are the highest in the world's transportation history.

"A train may be late occasionally because of troop movements, but what good American would squawk about that?"

(From "The Girl on the Train" pamphlet, June 1942)

The Louisville & Nashville is glad to have made its contribution to the war effort. It not only put its entire facilities in good condition in anticipation of the demands, but in addition has since January 1938 spent or contracted for over $46,000,000 in improvements to roadway and equipment.

Its Federal taxes in 1941 were $9,391,531; taxes for railroad social security, pensions, etc., were $3,087,523, and for purposes of local government, $5,183,378—a total of $17,662,432.

As further calls are made upon us, management and employees will face the demand with confident courage. We greatly appreciate the many ways in which our patrons have been co-operative and helpful.

Properly, precedence must be given to the essential requirements of war. Government freight and soldier trains must have the right-of-way. If occasional delays or inconveniences ensue, we hope these will be accepted as a part of your contribution to what it takes to win this war.

To merit and hold your patronage and good will is our earnest desire.

IN SPITE of all the rain of the past week end several good catches of fish were made "between the drops" by persistent fishermen. However, the inland waters will be bad for a few days.

Father Leo F. Fahey, Arthur Scafide and Alden Mauffray enjoyed a nice fishing trip up Jordan river last Thursday. Father Fahey landed a nice one of which he was justly proud. Don't know the exact weight.

Henry Osinach had a nice evening Sunday when he caught a nice string of green trout around the old Gex Mill area. Henry said that they tasted better than they looked.

Beverly Glass of Waveland reports catching a large black fish on the reefs Tuesday.

Mr. Clifford Lyons and friend made a nice catch up Pearl River over the week end.

Steve Kenney, Field Representative of New Orleans Area of Boy Scouts who has been spending his vacation here, has enjoyed some nice fishing trips. He has been seen frequently out in front of St. Stanislaus College pier where he has been landing some good speckles and white trout. Steve says he has really been having a good time.

Among those out over the week end, as usual, were Albert Hitt, W. S. Morrill, Bob Genin and Kenady. They all report good catches.

Jordan River and Bayou Lacroix territory has an abundance of green trout and perch this year, attesting to the good that has resulted from the thousands of small fish which have been planted in these waters during the past two years or more. Big ones are being caught daily.

Commercial fishermen report that speckles and white trout are biting right now in outside waters in front of the Bay. According to their statement fishing will improve greatly as the shrimp begin to run. Large numbers have been caught during the past week.

All local fishing camps at this time are offering live bait and b'ats for use of the public. A trip can be arranged any time.

Linn Rutherford home from camp over the week caught several dozen hard crabs Saturday night. Linn says they are biting at their best.

Eugene Fly, State Collector of Internal Revenue, of Jackson, Miss., spent Sunday out fishing with E. L. Kennedy and Bob Genin up Jordan river. He returned home with a nice string of green trout.
